Opportunities/Careers for Those Qualified in Kinesiology and/or Public Health.”

What: Hear a short presentation, and then have an opportunity to engage in conversation with Dr. Blair.

Who For: Primarily for UND KPHE and MPH faculty and staff, but also for anybody who wants to learn about future opportunities and careers related to kinesiology and public health.

Where: In the UND Memorial Union Lecture Bowl.

When: Wednesday September 17 at 9:15 am.

Who is Dr. Steven Blair?

- Currently a professor in the exercise science program at the Arnold School of Public Health, University of South Carolina.
- 26 years as Director of Epidemiology/Research and CEO of the Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research.
- A leading scientist in the Energy Balance Study—a project that should help address the many issues of the global obesity epidemic.
- Recipient of the Surgeon General's Medallion, and numerous other national and international honors.
- Senior scientific editor for the U.S. Surgeon General’s Report on Physical Activity and Health.
- Author of more than 650 scientific papers.
- Lecturer to medical, scientific, and public audiences in 48 states and 50+ countries.