What is Our Mission?

The Summer Reading Camp is designed to promote the literacy growth of children who may be experiencing difficulties with reading and writing. Children are assessed by knowledgeable teachers and teacher candidates and a program of instruction is planned to meet each child's particular needs. In addition, we strive to make the learning experience relaxed and pleasant, so that children can feel free to take risks as they develop more positive and successful literacy strategies.

Who May Attend?

UND's Summer Reading Camp is designed for children entering 1st-7th grade in the coming fall. Please note: students whose learning and behavioral needs exceed the specific areas of reading and writing are not good candidates for the program.

What Are The Costs?

The Summer Reading Camp fee is $60. This includes ten, three-hour instructional sessions and a camp t-shirt. In addition we ask that children bring a nutritious snack daily.
